Integrated Software Solutions for First Nations

Our Business is First Nations

Since 1984, Xyntax Systems has worked exclusively with First Nation, Tribal Council, and band empowered entities across Canada in providing innovative and comprehensive software solutions to meet the financial and administrative requirements of each community. We focus on understanding not just, what features First Nations in Canada need, but also the operational and regulatory requirements driving the need for these features and we offer a broad range of integrated, easy-to-use, financial, administrative, and back office management solutions; all developed with and for First Nations.

We are the only aboriginal owned, Canadian software manufacturer, dedicated exclusively for First Nations that offers "real-time" integration within a modular financial management and accounting software system.

The Ideal Business Partner

The ideal software solution should be like the ideal business partner, it does what needs to be done efficiently so that you can direct your energy and skill toward managing your respective department. Spending unnecessary time and money trying to adapt generic accounting software to match your needs may satisfy some areas; however, many of your departments have unique reporting requirements and are left behind forcing you to purchase costly, non-integrated, third party software that only creates more work.

At Xyntax, we understand this challenge, and are committed to providing integrated software solutions that focus on eliminating redundant data entry all the while maintaining "real-time" reporting for band administration.

Designed to accommodate any size of First Nation organization, Xyntax is the only financial management suite developed with and for First Nations; therefore, our software is uniquely equipped to help manage your organization more cost effectively and efficiently.

Is it not about time that you used a software suite designed to meet your needs?
